Background

Roquebrun is an attractive medieval town in the Languedoc's Black Mountains. The well-run co-op here makes some exceptional wines which are centred on the Saint-Chinian appellation. Due to Saint-Chinian's location being situated slightly higher up, away from the warmer plains, the wines produced can achieve true elegance and finesse. The vineyards are planted on south-facing slopes with the soil comprising of argilo limestone and characteristic smooth pebbles which retain the day's heat and radiate it at night. Some of the vines are more than twenty years old.

Winemaking

The Carignan is selected based on its terroir whilst the Syrah and Grenache Noir and Mourvèdre are harvested according to the individual plots within the vineyards. The grapes are de-stemmed and undergo carbonic maceration where the weight of the fruit naturally gently presses out the juice. Classic red wine vinification techniques are used and the resulting wine is aged in stainless steel vats.

Tasting & Pairing

Deep complex aromatic perfumed notes alongside crushed red berries and bramble fruit. Round, soft tannins create a well-structured style with good weight. Ripe blackberry flavours are dominant with earthy spice and herb nuances.

Pair with rustic meat dishes or hard cheese.
