Background

This Saint Julien comes from a 1 hectare plot of clay, gravel and sandy soil on the Château du Glana estate and is one of the rare crus Bourgeois of the appellation. The wine is made in their cellar by Gabriel Meffre and his team.

Winemaking

Once fruit is picked and vinified, wine is aged in 45% new and 55% old oak barrels for a silky wine.

Tasting & Pairing

A well structured wine. It has a perfumed nose of blackberries, red plums, and spice with a palate of silky dark fruit and gentle tannins.

Best served with game and red meat dishes.
