Producer

Produced by winemakers Emmanuel Bolliger and Nicky Parish from fruit grown in the Upper Wairau Valley.

Climate, viticulture, winemaking

Vineyards located in the Upper Wairau Vallery, a picturesue regions framed by rugged mountains and gentle rolling hills. Warm days and cool nights allow the Sauvignon Blanc to ripen gradually andn develop intense concentrated flavours. Harvested at optimal ripeness, grapes are gently pressed to preserve delicate flavours before fermentation in stainless steel tanks to maintain vibrancy and freshness.

Tasting Notes

Exciting aromas of lime grapefruit and passionfruit on the nose with a lively burst of citrust fruit on the palate enhanced by tropical guava and pineapple.

Good to know

A Sustainable Winegrowing New Zealand accredited producer, Parish and Bolliger use few mechanical interventions, preferring sheep to help mow in winter! And only using chemicals when absolutely necessary - the goal is to protect the land that gives us this wine.
